GORONERAND LAWYER HAVE A ROW OFER MARY GIBSON'S INQUEST.

Hocher Tells the Accused Midwife to "Stand Up;" Howe Tells Her to "Six Bown"—When the Jury Is Out Mocher Calls Howe "An Audacious Line,"

Lawyer Howe and Coroner_Hoeber had a row during the hearing of an inquest yester-day which resulted in a temporary suspension of proceedings. Coroner Hoeber declined to go on until the District Attorney's office ould have a man present to help him cope with the lawyer.
The case was that of Mary Gibson, a servant, was died at Believus Hospital on March 6 of alleged malpractics. Mrs. Lens Schott, a mid-wus, of 866 First avenue, was a prisoner in the case, and it was her interests that Lawver the case, and it was her interests that Lawyer Hows was looking out for. The adjournment of the case graw out of Mr. Howe's objecting to Coroner Hoeber's supplementing the testi-mony of Dr. Otto Schultze, the Coroner's phy-sician, who had testified that there was evidence that an operation had been performed. When Assistant District Attorney Unger came the inquest was proceeded with.

Lawyer Hewe asked for the auto-mortem statement which he understood Mary Gibeon had made. "I decline to let you see it," said the Cer-

"I decline to let you see it," said the Corsner.
"Then I will impeach you," replied the lawyer. "This is monstrous."
Coroner Hoeber asked Lawyer Howe if he wished to put Mrs. Schott on the stand.
"I stand on my rights. I refuse to answer the question," said Lawyer Howe.
"Mrs. Schott, stand up," said the Coroner.
"Mrs. Schott, sit down," said her counsel.
"Mrs. Schott, stand up," repeated the Cormer.

"Mrs. Schott, sis down," commanded Mr. Mrs. Schott, sit down, commanded Mr. Howe.

Mrs. Schott stood up and sat down and stood up and sat down again.

Then Assistant District Attorney Oliver told the Coroner that Mrs. Schott had a right to the Coroner that Mrs. Schott had a right to refuse to teathfy.

"Anything you have to say," said the Coroner, addressing Lawyer Howe, "I will receive as being the most contemptuous."

The ante-mortem statement was produced, but as Mary Gibeon had said that she did not think she was going to die, it was not read.

After various witnesses had testified, and Dr. Hoeber had made his charge, the case was given to the jury.

Dr. Hoeber had made his charge, the case was given to the jury.

While the jury was out Coroner Hoeber, approaching Lawyer Howe, said:

"I am sure you cannot find any objection to my charge."

"It's your confounded eccentricities I object to," said the lawyer.

"And it is such as you who provoke me. You had better go and pay your debts. You owe everybody!" shrisked the Coroner.

"I don't owe a cent," said the lawyer; "but how about that $600 you owe your clerk?"

"What a liar you are!" shouted the Coroner.

"What lies you tell!! What an audacious liar!!"

liar lil."

As the Coroner completed this sentence he had walked up to and was facing the lawyer, and within a foot of him. Every one looked for blows.

"What a gentleman you are," was the only reply Lawyer Howe made.

The jury found that Mary Gibson died of septicemia, following causes unknown to the jury. Coroner Hoeber discharged Mrs. Schott.

CHIEF CONLIN'S POWERS.

He Has the Sole Right to Assign All Policemen to Duty.

Acting Corporation Counsel David J. Dean advised the Police Board yesterday that the right to assign all policemen to duty lay with the Chief of Police and not with the Board. At the same time he quoted from Justice Andrews's decision "that there is no such rank or grade in the department established by law as that of this resolution adopted by the Police Board on Tuesday: "Resolved, That the opinion of the Corporation

"Resolved, That the opinion of the Corporation Counsel be requested on the following questions: "First-Whether the power to assign patrolmen to duty as roundsmen, thereby giving to them a higher grade, more important duties, and increased pay, is vested in the Chief of Police or the Hoard of Police, "Second—Whether the selection and assignment to duty of a Sargeant of police as an acting Captain, or a Captain as an acting Inspector, with a view of testing their fitness for promotion and rating them in a competitive examination therefor, is within the power of the Board of Police.
"Third—Whether, as an incident to the rower."

tion therefor, is within the power of the Board of Police.

"Third—Whether, as an incident to the power of assigning officers to duty or otherwise, the Chief of Police has the power to change or modify the boundaries of precincts or inspection districts which have been established by the Board of Police."

To the first question Mr. Dean replied:

"The provisions of the law quoted are clear, and give to the Chief of Police the power to assign patrolmen to duty as roundsmen."

The assignment of Sergeants as acting Captains and Captains as acting Inspectors, to test their fitness for promotion, Mr. Dean holds is also within the power of the Chief of Police.

To the third question he says:

"This can be answered without attempting to pass upon the question of the relative powers of the Board and of the Chief of Police in relation to establishing precincts or inspection districts.

to establishing precincts or inspection districts. Chief can assign officers to duty without regard to the boundaries of the precincts or inspection districts which have been established by the Board of Police."

SHOTS FIRED IN A STREET FIGHT. Wayfald by Ambushers While Returning from a Ball.

James Bradley, 23 years old, a truck driver of 845 West Forty-fifth street, was held for ex-amination in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of felonious assault. He is acquised by Detective Kear of the West Forty-seventh street station of shooting Joseph Hanna of 307 West Forty-fifth street shortly fore 3 o'clock yesterday morning. When the detective was at Forty-fourth street

When the detective was at Forty-fourth street and Ninth avenue a party of young men came down the avenue from a bail in Wendell's Assembly Rooms. Suddenly several men sprang from a doorway and attacked them. During the scrimmage which followed four pistol shots were fired. After the last shot Bradley, who was in the crowd, started to run. When arrested he fought desperately, but was finally hand-cuffed and taken to the station house.

Later it was learned that Hanna, who was also in the crowd, had been shot in the arm. He refused to go to court yesterday, so Magistrate Flammer directed the detective to bring as many witnesses of the shooting before him to-day as he could find.

Lost Their Jobs on St. Patrick's Day. Twenty-one men who were employed in the Healy iron; works, at Driggs avenue and North Fifth street, Williamsburgh, as helpers, lost their jobs yesterday because they didn't report for work on St. Patrick's Day. On Monday night the helpers were requested, so it is declared, not to put the firm to inconvenience by remaining away. Their failure to appear caused the works to be closed down for the day.

WEDNESDAY, March 18. Wall street is apparently beginning to realize that the reaction in the prices of staple products and commodities from the comparatively high figures recorded six months ago, together with the uneasiness created by the Venezueian dispute and by the blundering financing of the Treasury, are beginning to affect general business in a tangible manner. Attention has re-peatedly been directed in this column to the unfavorable character of those developments and their possible effect upon mercantile and manufacturing enterprises. The number and magnitude of commercial failures at the present time is a regrettable demonstration of the accuracy of the views referred to. The movement of merchandise is sluggish, partly because in many lines an overstocked condition prevails, and also be cause the prices for staple products have not snabled agricultural communities to make liberal expenditures. These conditions have made it difficult for mercantile borrowers to obtain, practically on favorable terms, the accommodations they have desired, a circumstance that in turn has precipitated liquidation and failures. Wall street, which has enjoyed a comparalively easy money market, and has been encouraged by the absence of liquidation in securities as well as by the progress made toward rehabillisting bankrupt railroad companies, has in the main ignored conditions that have been steadily dragging down general business. There was evidence on the Stock Exchange to-day of moderate liquidation of speculative accounts, and the extent of the net declines, particularly in the so-called inactive stocks, emphasizes the narrow-ness of the market as well; as the unsubstantial character of the support that has been ac-corded it of late. The more important transactions were in American Tobacco, Sugar Refining, St. Paul, and United States Leather preferred. All of them closed lower than yesterday, and the first two sustained material net losses. Other stocks less extensively dealt in that closed decidedly lower than yester-day were C., B. and Quincy, Consolidated Gas, Distilling. General Electric, Louisville and Nashville, M., K. and T. preferred, Southern Railway preferred, and Tennessee Coal and Iron. Foreign arbitrage houses were moderate sellers, because of the unsettled political feeling abroad. The market, however, did not develop positive weakness until after the London mar ket had closed. Speculation was then affected by rumors from Philadelphia, which were to an mercantile embarrassment at that centre.

Interest in the Northern l'acido plan of reor cantration was revived to day by reports reunderwriting. A number of recent reorganiza-tions have been effected upon terms so profitable to the bankers who have guaranteed them that requests for participation in new under-writing have been unusually large. In conse-quence no difficulty whatever is encountered in forming an underwriting syndicate of scores of in charge of the undertaking to distribute the difficulty, in an aggravated form, ap-pears to have been encountered by those who have assumed the task of rehabilitating the Northern Pacific Company; but as the majority in interest of the creditors have as-sented to the plan, and the stockholders by their position where they cannot do otherwise than accept the terms offered them, it is not likely that disputes over prospective profits resulting from their adversity will impede the progress of the reorganization. Creditors and stockholders erings over profits to be derived from their

The interest on bonds was the same in both years, but rentals were $72,394 in 1895 against $93,835 in 1894. The item of "other expenditures" included, in 1895, $11,483 for interest and discount and land purchased and $182,633 for cars purchased and built in shops, while in 1894 the interest and discount account was $33,134, and $244,907 was used in settlement of suits with the Southern Pacific Company. The report of President George J. Gould states that the company purchased last year 11,778 tons of 75-5, steel rails, sufficient to lay 100 miles of track. To complete the laying of the entire line in steel will require an addition of about 5,000 tons, which should, the report says, be purchased this year. The decrease in earnings in 1895 was almost wholly due to an exceptionally poor cotton crop, both in Texas and Louisiana, involving a loss of $342,709 in revenue. Cotton averages only $200,000 ton revenue. Cotton averages only $200,000 ton the total tonnage of the company, but it is a product from which the largest revenue is derived. The loss on cotton was partly compensated for by the largest corn crop ever produced in Texas and by a greater movement in cattle. The company ends the year practically free from Beating dobt, and with the physical condition of the line better than at any time in its history. The outlook for the company is favorable in these respects: Gradual and steady increase in the population shops its line, both in Texas and Louisians, increase in corn shipments from New Orleans, the principal terminus of the line; the new enterprise of shipping cattle direct from Texas to Liverpool via the Texas and Pacific, and improved facilities for handling traffic economically. The percentage of operating expenses to carnings per mile $1,210, decrease $200, operating expenses to earnings was 71,280 % cont. against 71,25 in 1804.
